Products/Services: Fleet Productivity, GPS and Autostating. Driverless automated fleet management system designed specifically for the readymix industry. GPS is only a small component of this product; the product delivers statuses and times for the entire delivery cycle of a ready mix truck all done without driver intervention. One of the key features is its ability to proactively give the fleet manager a detailed report on which drivers are high risk due to driving habits in comparison to the rest of the fleet. All done through an automated system which is integrated into the dispatching system.
