

Kevin Kipp Elected Chairman of for the Texas Aggregates and Concrete Association

Austin, June 16, 2023 – The Texas Aggregates and Concrete Association (TACA) is pleased to announce the election of Kevin Kipp as their new Chairman of the Board of Directors. Kevin Kipp, President of Few Ready Mix in Jasper, Texas, brings a wealth of industry experience and leadership to this role.

Kevin's connection to the concrete industry dates back to his early career as a mixer driver for Few Ready Mix, where he gained valuable insight into the challenges faced by drivers. His unwavering commitment to the business is reflected in his hands-on involvement with the team at Few Ready Mix. Kevin's deep understanding of the unique benchmarks and productivity challenges facing producers in rural Texas towns has contributed to the company's success.

As Chairman of the Board for TACA, Kevin Kipp's primary focus will be on "preserving a solid foundation." He recognizes the strength and support provided by TACA and its members, which enables the association to effectively address industry-wide challenges and foster a broader perspective within the concrete industry.

"It is my honor to serve the hardworking men and women of the concrete, aggregate, and cement industries, as well as the customers we serve", Kipp Said. " Together with TACA staff and many selfless volunteer leaders, we can uphold the high standards set by our predecessors as the world leader in the concrete aggregate and cement sector."

In his role as Chairman, Kevin Kipp will guide TACA to achieve its strategic objectives, ensuring the continued growth and success of the association. With his extensive industry knowledge, dedication to the operations of a family-owned business, and proven leadership skills, Kipp is uniquely qualified to make a significant impact in advancing the interests of TACA and its members.

TACA serves as the leading association for the aggregate, cement, and concrete industries in Texas. Representing 75 percent of the state's ready-mix producers, 80 percent of aggregate producers, and nearly 100 percent of cement producers, TACA is dedicated to promoting operational excellence, sustainability, and product quality.

"Kevin Kipp's election as Chairman of the Board is a testament to his remarkable dedication and contributions to the aggregate, cement, and concrete industries," says Josh Leftwich, TACA's President and CEO. "We have full confidence in his ability to lead TACA towards further excellence, building upon the solid foundation established by his predecessors."
